

Europe's World

THE ONLY EUROPE-WIDE POLICY JOURNAL

Home | Subscribe | About EW | Partners & Advertisers | Editorial Board | Advisory Board

SEARCH BY:

- Author
- Title
- Topic
- Country/origin
- General key words
- Previous issues

GALLUP

SEARCH BY KEYWORD(S) IN TITLE

TYPE KEYWORD(S):

PERIOD FROM: TO:

FULL SEARCH:

Eu funding & Grants

Put the chances on your side with

Welcome Europe

Make an informed purchasing decision.

- on Jerzy Baczynski's "The flaws in Europe's democracy" by Alan Dukes
ISSUE: Spring 2008
- on Jerzy Baczynski's "The flaws in Europe's democracy" by Arjen Berkvens
ISSUE: Spring 2008
- The flaws in Europe's democracy by Jerzy Baczynski
Europe's economic model may not be highly exportable, but its democratic values are widely appreciated. Jerzy Baczynski, Editor-in-Chief of Polityka in Warsaw, looks at the reality of democracy in the EU's formerly communist countries and assesses both the democratic "deficit" and democratic "fatigue"
ISSUE: Autumn 2007
- What a European parliamentary democracy could look like by Tapio Raunio
ISSUE: Summer 2007
- Understanding Islamic democracy by Dalia Mogahed
Europe has a vitally important role to play in repairing relations between the West and the Islamic world, says Dalia Mogahed of the Gallup Organization. Her article reflects a poll of 10,000 Muslims around the world that reveals the depths of Western and Islamic misunderstandings about religion and government
ISSUE: Spring 2006

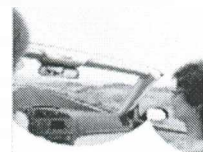

Thursday 20 March 2008

Current issue

today, all energy company and a leading university share a common goal.

the common goal.

Find out about the Global Climate and Energy Project > GO

ExxonMobil
Taking on the world's toughest energy challenges.

flex

b.flex economy+
FINALLY AN ECONOMY CLASS THAT UNDERSTANDS MY BUSINESS

brussels airlines
Flying your way

login Powered by Odysseas

Contact us | Jobs | Site map